“Q&A Responses”

Responses from Kyle McAllister

Question 27 - September 1, 2002 - Maygin from KL asked, “What would you say that your relationship with Ms. Wagner was like?”

Response 27: Our relationship was very complex. I believed in Raychel and her talent. I think she had made so many mistakes before she met me that she didn't know how to cope with success when we started out so well. Anna once said that Raychel didn't know how to be happy because of her father and his abuse of her. I know that I was far from perfect in our relationship, but those elements of Raychel's personality combined to add a lot more stress in our relationship than there needed to be. All that being said, we had something very special between us, and it was getting better before it was taken away from us. I regret that I'll never know just how good we could have been together, both professionally and personally.
